

Steve Hoffman, The Tax Translator, Graduates from Million Dollar Consulting® College

Exclusive Program from Dr. Alan Weiss Educates Leading Consultants

December 14, 2012 – Westford, MA – Steve Hoffman, “The Tax Translator” recently completed the Million Dollar Consulting® College in Newport, Rhode Island. As a graduate of the college, Steve joins an elite group of just 180 consultants around the globe who have been personally trained by renowned consultant Alan Weiss, PhD.

As an internationally known consultant, sought-after speaker and author of 46 books, Alan Weiss is a leading expert in the field. The New York Post called him "one of the most highly regarded independent consultants in America," and Success Magazine has cited him in an editorial devoted to his work as "a worldwide expert in executive education."

The 2012 class of Million Dollar Consulting College is diverse group of 18 consultants from the United Kingdom, Germany, Canada, Australia, and the U.S. With expertise in strategy, organizational development, and technology, participants represented a wide variety of disciplines and cultural perspectives.

The immersive program educates consultants on delivering consulting strategies that yield dramatic results for clients. The curriculum includes intense challenges in case studies, role-plays and group exercises. Participants learn creative solutions and develop innovative approaches to client service and value-based results.

Hoffman looks forward to sharing his enhanced expertise with an expanding client base. "This program transformed my perspective on creating value for clients," said Hoffman. "My mind is brimming with new ideas on how I can help my clients improve tax compliance and optimize their strategic impact."
